DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(a) the invention was known or used by others in this country, or patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country, before the invention thereof by the applicant for a patent.

Claims 1-5, 7-13 and 15-19 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Rupert 6,717,053. Regarding claim 1, Rupert discloses a workstation assembly 10, comprising: a worksurface 14 having opposite sides; and an electrical workstation module 120, including a housing 122 having a mounting surface adjacent one said side of said worksurface; at least one modular electrical component 32 carried by said housing; an adjustment element 80 connected to said housing; and a bracket 22 connected with said adjustment element, said bracket having a compressive surface 78 adjacent an other said side of said worksurface and facing said mounting surface, said compressive surface movable in directions toward and away from said mounting surface using said adjustment element.

Regarding claim 10, Rupert discloses an electrical workstation module, comprising: a housing having a mounting surface; at least one modular electrical component 32 carried by said housing; an adjustment element 80 connected to said housing; and a bracket 22 connected with said adjustment element, said bracket having a compressive surface 78 adjacent facing said mounting surface, said compressive surface movable in directions toward and away from said mounting surface using said adjustment element.

Regarding claim 18, Rupert discloses a method of mounting an electrical workstation module to a worksurface, comprising the steps of: placing an electrical workstation module against the worksurface, said electrical workstation module including a housing having at least one modular electrical component 32, an adjustment element 80 connected to said housing and a movable bracket 78 connected to said adjustment element; moving said movable bracket relative to said housing; and compressing at least a portion of said worksurface between said bracket and said housing.

Regarding claim 2, said movable bracket is connected to said worksurface, see col. 3, lines 45-50.

Regarding claims 3 and 11, said housing includes a shaped slot 58, said movable bracket includes a shaped segment, said shaped segment located in said shaped slot.

Regarding claims 4 and 12, said adjustment element includes a knob, a threaded element connected to said knob and a flange connected to said threaded element.

Regarding claims 5 and 13, said housing includes a cover 28.

Regarding claims 7 and 15, said electrical component is a power receptacle 32.

Regarding claims 8 and 16, said bracket 22 is movable relative to said housing.

Regarding claims 9, 17 and 19, said bracket is configured for mounting said electrical workstation module in a slotted mounting.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 6 and 14 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: regarding claims 6 and 14, patentability resides, at least in part in the workstation assembly having a knob disposed between the housing and the cover, in combination with the other limitations of the base claims.

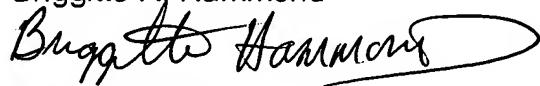

Conclusion

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Brigitte R. Hammond whose telephone number is 571-272-2006. The examiner can normally be reached on Mon.-Thurs. and Alternate Fridays from 7:30-5:00.
